Shortage of Hydro-Engineers

1. The number of engineers employed in the administration of river navigation and waterway construction is approximately 500. there is a shortage of 1,500 specialists in this field.

Reinforcement of Barges on the Vistula River

2. In order to increase the capacity of Vistula River navigation, 100 and 150 ton barges have been transferred from the Gornonotecki Canal and the Oder River to the Vistula. The transfer was carried out in August, since the main concern was to increase autumn transports by water of agricultural products from all regions alongside the Vistula.
